

FROM STENO

Focus on the case, not the cost.

Steno is revolutionizing court reporting, right down to how you fund your litigation. With DelayPay, our signature deferred payment approach, you can take all the depositions you need, without any upfront investment at all.

Increase Your Case Value

As an attorney, you balance the cost of each deposition against the potential benefits to your case. DelayPay makes the equation easy by offering streamlined litigation financing with zero initial investment. Level the playing field for your client and start aggressively building your case.

Free Up Cash Flow to Grow Your Practice

All costs can be deferred until the case concludes, which means the costs will be paid from the disbursed funds. In many states, if there is ultimately no disbursement of funds on the case, you don't pay anything.

No Upfront Costs. All Upfront Benefits

No application process. No application fees. No extra billing. No payment due until the case concludes. No initial investment at all.

Use On All Steno Services

Use DelayPay on all eligible services, from our exceptional court reporting, to scheduling videographers, to securing conference rooms, and even litigation services to help your case run seamlessly, start to finish.

Make your depositions an asset, not an obstacle.
